

Press Release: Newly Appointed Senior Trademark Attorney

Cameron Intellectual Property Ltd has announced the expansion of practice with the appointment of Meena Murrin as Senior Trade Mark Attorney.

Ms Murrin qualified as a solicitor with Semple Fraser in 2011 before specialising as an IP Attorney with Marks & Clerk, making her uniquely skilled within the field of intellectual property law in Scotland. She now practices as a UK Chartered Trade Mark Attorney and European Trade Mark Attorney, providing highly strategic and commercial advice on all aspects of the global protection and management of trade marks.

Stewart Cameron, director and founder of Cameron Intellectual Property said “We are delighted to welcome Meena as our new head of trade marks. The firm’s growing success is due to our people and the increasing demand for specialist IP services. Meena’s expertise, enthusiasm and dedication to providing a first-rate service to clients will be invaluable as she leads the trade mark practice and further drives the success of the firm.”
